

Tummy

Fat-Buster: It's the toxins that make you tubby. At least that's the belief of Vivienne Talsmalt who has developed Rejuvaslim; a detox programme that guarantees you lose at least 10 pounds in weight during a month-long programme.

Pesticides, additives in our food and the polluted air we breathe locks onto fat cells to make them swell and slows down our natural elimination process.

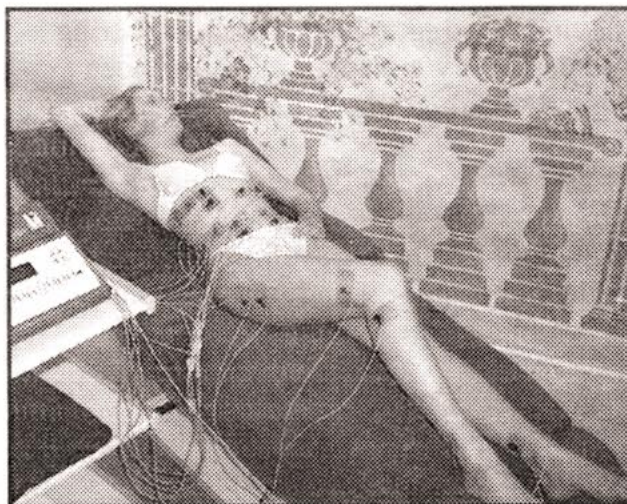

A thermographic scan of your intestinal tract reveals the level of toxicity.

Tailored to suit you, pads are placed at toxic points on the body and electrical impulses give the equivalent of a deep tissue massage with none of the pain, stimulating a sluggish lymphatic system and chipping away at intestinal plaque while toning the skin.

Caffeine, alcohol, wheat and dairy are replaced with organic fresh food. In addition to a svelte silhouette comes an improvement in other symptoms linked to toxic overload: IBS, high blood pressure, asthma, eczema, migraine and rheumatoid arthritis. At last, a fast track route to a beach tum to be proud of.
